

Call for Papers: 2019 Law and Development Conference

“Law and Development: From the Islamic Perspective”

Dubai, UAE, December 6, 2019

The Law and Development Institute (www.lawanddevelopment.net) will host its tenth annual international conference in law and development in Dubai, UAE in collaboration with the University of Dubai College of Law.

Law, legal frameworks, and institutions have significant impact on economic and social development; however, the role of law and legal institutions for development in the Islamic world has not been sufficiently analyzed. This conference will explore this important role on the following sub-topics:

- The Role of Law for Economic Development in the Islamic World (including Sharia and Development)
- Islamic Institutions and Development
- Cases of Successful Development in the Islamic World
- “Law” as a Bridge Between the Islamic and non-Islamic Worlds for Development
- Arbitration and Development
- Economic Crimes (including Financial Crimes) in the Context of Economic Development

We ask all interested speakers to submit one-page paper abstracts by February 1, 2019. We expect abstracts, papers, and presentations in English language.
